EXTEND WELCOME TO THE VISITORS

Commercial Rerpresentatives of Washington Visit City.

HEARTILY GREETED

City Officials, Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Hosts on the Occasion.

Headed by a platoon of police in command of Sergeant Wilkinson, and a brass band, the two hundred members of the Washington Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchant's Association of that city, after disembarking from the steamer "St. Johns" on their trip down the Potomac river in search of trade, marched up King street, at 9:40 o'clock this morning.

The steamer was met at the Cameron street wharf by A. D. Brockett, representing the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, Harry Hammond, president of the Retail Merchant's Association, and Harrie White, secretary and treasurer of the association, who acted as guides for the party in their trip around the city.

Upon arrival at the City Hall the party marched to the rooms of the common council where they were received by F. F. Marbury, president of the Board of Aldermen and acting mayor of the city in the absence of Mayor Thomas A. Fisher. Mr. Marbury, in a few words welcomed the visitors. He said that the mission of the excursionists, the bringing back of Washington the trade which had been lost to Baltimore—was a good one and in its object the Washington party had the very best wishes of the Alexandria people. The upbuilding of Washington means the future upbuilding of Alexandria, as this city would benefit by it.

President R. P. Andrews, of the Washington Retail Merchant's Association, thanked the acting mayor for his cordial expression. He said that they were not endevoring to take away Alexandria's trade but to bring more trade in this direction, in which Alexandria will share.

"Washington is growing so fast in one direction," said Mr. Andrews," and Alexandria in the other and the time will not be far distant when we will be one big community seperated by a noble river. Laughingly he added, "Ultimately we may need a special act of congress to bring Alexandria back into the district with us, but in these times, when Congress is passing so many freak bills, it may be easy to slip one like this over without any one catching us."

D. J. Kaufman made a happy speech in which he praised the hospitality of Alexandria which he said he had experienced since 1862. He said that he hoped to see Alexandria grow to be a great manufacturing center.

A. D. Brockett, a member of the city Council spoke along the same lines as the previous speakers and extended the hospitality of the city to the visitors.

The party next called at the office of the Alexandria Gazette, the oldest daily newspaper in the United States, where they were received by Robert S. Barrett, its editor. A photograph was taken in front of the Gazette building.

At the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, cornor Washington and King streets, the party was received by the officers of the association and a number of business men, including Frank L. Slaymaker, O. B. Hopkins, Frank C. Spinks, Robert E. Knight, Thomas Chauncey, C. B. Hubbard, Geo S. French, E. E. Downham, Lewis H. Machen, John N. Trimyer, W. W. Ballenger and H. D. Kirk. The guests were given light refreshments, after which Carroll Pierce, president of the Chamber, made an address of welcome James T. Preston, secretary of the chamber, had charge of the arrangements which were carried out in a delightful manner.

The return trip to the St. Johns was made at 10:30 when the boat left immediately for lower river points. Stops will be made at Bushwood, Gla Stone wharf, and other points, and Leonardtown, Md. will be reached at about 6 o'clock tonight.

On the second day of the excursion stops will be made at many of the river landings. The trip will include a crusie up the Coan River and stops at many well-known landings.

Stops will be made at Wakefield, the birth place of George Washington

Wife of W. R. And E. Co. President Succumbs at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Sara D. King, wife of Clarence P. King, president of the Washington Railway and Electric Company, died yyesterday at her home, 100 State avenue.

Mrs. King has been in ill health for years, being troubled with an affection of the heart. She was formerly Miss Sara McLean, of Philadelphia, where she lived practically all her life. Her first husband was Isaac H. Jones, a real estate man. Some years after Mr. Jones' death she married Mr. King, and continued to live in Philadelphia until five years ago, when they moved to the seashore.

Two sons and her husband survive Mrs. King.

Mr. King was the former owner of the Atlantic City Gas Works. He is a director in many banks and trust companies, and has many interests in this and other cities.

Miss Whitehurst, who has been under the care of a physician since the assault, appeared in court and identified the negro.

SIXTEEN DROWN.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—Urged by personal orders from the Kaiser, torpedo boats today searched the waters of the North Sea for bodies of the sixteen men believed to have drowned when the German naval Zeppelin L-I, was sunk last night eighteen miles north of Helloland.

This was the worst of the numerous disasters which have overtaken Germany's airship fleet, and is the twelfth accident to befall the Zeppelin airships and the first to be accompanied with loss of life.

THAW IS SEIZED AND CARRIED OFF

Throws Bottle and Fights Those Engaged in the Abduction.

YELLS FRANTICALLY

Detention Room Shows Signs of Furious Struggle—Furniture Upset and in Disorder.

Coaticook, Quebec, Sept. 10.—Victim of a coup, which came so quickly that all concerned were taken by surprise, Harry K. Thaw was hustled out of the detention room at the railroad station here early today, and against his violent protests was rushed across the border to Vermont.

"I am being kidnapped," yelled Thaw. "Help! This is outrageous! Won't some one stop this outrage?"

Screaming his protests, Thaw made what little resistance he could, but had no chance against his keepers.

Immigration Officer Robertson stated that there was nothing illegal about the proceeding.

"It is all regular," he said, and declined to explain further.

The action was taken on a warrant issued by the minister of justice acting for the minister of the interior.

It is understood here that Thaw was taken to Norton's Mills, where William Travers Jerome has spent much time for a week.

As the governor of Vermont has repeatedly announced that he will not permit Thaw to remain in that State, it is expected that theNew York State authorities, directed by Jerome, will immediately attempt to rush Thaw by automobile across the State of Vermont and into New York by the shortest route. Grave doubt was expressed here as to whether Thaw's counsel could obtain any legal process in Vermont in time to stop them.

The immigration officers went to Thaw's room at 8 o'clock and seized him. He fought furiously as he realized that he was being taken by his enemies. The guards had to subdue him by force, but Thaw displayed the strength of a mad man.

As the struggle proceeded Thaw seized a bottle from a table and hurled it crashing through a window of the detention office.

The officers practically dragged him down the stairway, as Thaw screamed at the top of his voice, begged, pleaded, and threatened.

The prisoner was thrown into an automibile, and before the startled villagers knew what had happened, their hero had been whirled away toward the boundary line.

The words heard from Thaw were cries of:

"They are kidnapping me. Help! Jerome is kidnapping me! Stop this outrage!"

The people of Coaticook quickly gathered about the railroad station and proclaimed their anger. They were infuriated and denounced the removal of Thaw as a kidnaping plot, "coked up by Jerome and Montreal officials."

The detention room showed signs of the furious struggle. The furniture was upset and the room was in the widest disorder. Some of Thaw's possessions were scattered about the room.

Shattered fragments of furniture and glass were on the floor.

C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, who is acting minister of the interior, and thereby in charge of immigration, held that the action of the board of inquiry last week in ordering Thaw's deportation was regular. Therefore, despite the restraining order issued by the King's bench at Montreal, he instructed the immigration officials to deport the prisoner. The time was well chosen, as Thaw and all his counsel had settled down serenely to await the trip to Montreal to appear before the King's bench. The village was unprepared and the immigration officers met with no resistance except the furious battle given by their prisoner.

Assistant Immigration Commissioner E. Blake Roberts had charge of the deportation. He was assisted by four men. No New York State officials participated in the thrilling deportation but it was supposed that they were waiting at Norton's Mills to take charge of Thaw.

When Thaw yelled that he was being kidnapped, Roberts said to him, "Never mind now, about that old fellow. It's all perfectly regular and legal."

Averill, Vt., Sept. 10.—Harry K. Thaw, in a big automobile, presumably in charge of Canadian authorities, passed through here about 9:30 o'clock today at a high rate of speed. The car went east from here leading toward New Hampshire. This was in the opposite direction from Norton Mills. It was presumed that the authorities were taking Thaw to New Hampshire, possibly to Colebrook. So far as known, no New York authorities were with Thaw.

Coaticook, Sept. 10.—The report from Averill, Vt., that the authorities went east with Thaw, instead of proceding toward Norton Mills, is taken to mean that they are headed for Beecher Falls, Vt., the point where Thaw crossed into Canada on his flight from Matteawan.

COL. HUTCHISON VINDICATED.

Manassas Court Officer makes Affidavit in case.

In its issue of Wednesday, September 3, The Gazette printed under a Manassas date line, the story of an alleged attack by Colonel Robert A. Hutchison, a member of Governor Mann's staff, on James F. Gulick, defendant in a court proceeding. Colonel Hutchison's friends claim that he was not the aggressor, but merely acted in self-defense. The appended affidavit, made by an officer of the court, is printed in justice to Colonel Hutchison.

"The Baltimore Sun and The Richmond Times-Dispatch of September 3, 1913 under date of September2, Manassas, Va., contain the statement that 'Colnel Robert A Hutchison a member of the Governor's staff, and an attorney, attacked James F. Gulick, a prisoner, while his trial was in progress in the town hall.'

"This statement is untrue, and does Mr. Hutchison a gross injustice. Mr. Gulick, was the defendant in a misdemeanor trial, but was not under arrest. Mr. Hutchison did not attack or strike him. Mr. Gulick became very insulting and jumped up and advanced upon Mr. Hutchison, who was sitting in a chair in a threatening manner with upraised and clenched fist. Mr. Hutchison sprang up and seized him, in self-defense, without at any time striking or offering to strike him.

Officers and bystanders separated the parties and the mater was over in a moment.

I was the constable who was acting as court failiff at the time, and was by both parties during the entire scene.

"Given under my hand this the 3rd day of September 1913.

E. M. CORNWELL."

I. J. L. Moser, the justice presiding at the trial above referred to, certify that the foregoing statement is true; and that the newspaper reports referred to are untrue and do Mr. Hutchison an injustice. He was not the aggressor, did not attack Mr. Gulick, and only acted in self-defense.

Given under my hand this 3rd day of September, 1913.

J. L. MOSER,
Justice of the Peace

The Gazette regrets the publication of the article which was without foundation. Col. Hutchison has many friends in the city.

ZAMACONA MAKES A SHORT STOP

Passes Through Alexandria at 1:18 This Afternoon.

GREETED AT STATION.

After Meeting Acquaintances Mexican Emissary Proceeds on His Way to Washington.

Manuel de Zamacona, the Mexican emissary, who, many think, may bring about a better understandng between the United States and Mexico, arrived at the Union passenger station at 1:18 this afternoon. The train made a short stop, during which time Zamacona was met by representative Alexandrians some of whom he had met in Mexico. The train subsequently left for Washington.

The mission of the Mexican emissary is still shoruded in mystery. Yet from the standpoint of those who have been following the interminable interchanges between the two countries, and on the say-so, too, of men in the confidence of the Adminstration, the situation has about reached the point where Zamacona's mission may end the difficulties, or break off all negotiations.

As no further assurances have come from Mexico City that President Huerta will not be in the lists of the October elections, pessism grows in Washington. And the time is fast approaching when assurances alone will not help the situation appreciably. Mexico to win the recognition of the United States, must not only eliminate Hureta as a candidate, but must hold the elections. To hold elections, under the Mexican constitution, the country must be in a state of peace. The actual condition existing, however, is that two-thirds of the country is still in a state of revolt, and, as far as Washington knows, there has been an effort made toward an armistice.

DECIDES IN FAVOR OF ALEXANDRIA

Principal Office of Railway Company to Remain Here

MEANS $1,000 IN TAXES.

Movement of County Supervisors Fails to Appeal to the Corporation Commission.

A telegram was received in this office at noon today from Mayor Thos. A. Fisher, now in Richmond, announcing that the Corporation Commission today decided in favor of Alexandria in the movement inaugurated by the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria county to have the principal offices of the Washington Southern Railway removed from Alexandria city to Alexandria county. This means that the city will continue to receive a part, at least, of the taxes heretofore collected from this corporation.

The details in connection with this attempt to deprive the city of revenue were given in Monday's Gazette.

As was stated at that time, Alexandria, as the headquarters of the railway, receives all the taxes on the rolling stock of the company. The rolling stock is assessed at $226,940, and the taxes this year amount to $4,084.92. Under a new law which has just gone in effect in the state, however, the city where the principal office of railway companies is located will only receive 25 per cent of the amount of the taxes on the rolling stock of railways and the remainder will be distributed among the counties through which the roads operate. Under any circumstances Alexandria will lose approximately $3,000 in revenue from this source after this year, but the city authorities have succeeded in saving the remaining $1,000 which would have been lost if the county's contention had been sustained by the commission.

Mayor Thomas A. Fisher, Corporation Attorney Samuel P Fisher and Charles H. Callahan, Commissioner of Revenue, went to represent the city of Alexandria while the county was represented by Crandall Mackey, Commonwealth's Attorney, and members of the board of supervisors.

THE TEMPLE SCHOOL

"Yes," said Mrs. Caroline B. Stephen, "the Temple School of Shorthand and Typewriting is one of the oldest of its kind in Washington.

"Established in 1901 with a faculty of three teachers the school has now a thoroughly organized faculty of four-teen teachers with an average attendance during the winter months of from 300 to 400 pupils a month.

"The greatest asset a parent can give a child is an education, which means development of the brain, development of capacity, and increased chances for success. There is little demand for unskilled labor in the business world today. The boy or girl must be trained to some particular line of work.

"This is what the Temple school does; it specializes in shorthand, typewriting, spelling, English, and business-office practice. It endeavors to find out just what the boy or girl can do. Many come to it poorly prepared for a stenographic course; in such cases, we advise a longer course in the high school.

"A high school course or its equivalent is absolutely essential in order to make a success of shorthand. Very few eighth-grade pupils are ever able to do much with it. We do not take them unless they come recommended by their teachers for special proficiency. Almost any one can learn the theory of shorthand, but it is the finished product that counts—the letters placed on an employer's desk, perfectly spelled and perfectly punctuated.

"The boy or girl who enters the Temple school is studied mentally, morally and physically, and advised accordingly."

Resident of Cherry Hill Neighborhood Sentenced to Serve Ninety Days

George Minnick, residing in the vicinity of Cherry Hill, was found by Officer Gill in Alexandria yesterday in a drunken condition and locked up.

Minnick makes occasional visits to this city, and on such occasions gets drunk and at times is guilty of indecent conduct. These facts were attested this morning by the officers. It was also shown that on his visits he is a regular patron of the Police Court.

The accused was in a dreamy condition this morning from the effects of liquor, and about the only coherent words that he uttered were to the effect that he came here for the purpose of meeting his son. He was told by the court that he could be found any time during the next ninety days on the roads of Virginia.

SUNDAY EVENING SCENE

Jones's Point, Former Pleasant Carousal, Disgraced By Drunken Negroes

Attention has several times been called to the fact that a floating barroom is maintained every Sunday a few yards from Jones's Point with ferry facilities for all Alexandrians, white and black, who have any inclination to defy the laws of the city and state.

It seems to be a question with some whether or not the city has jurisdiction in the case of this open defiance of law, but others can see no reason why the authorities could not make a movement towards obliterating this eyesore. The fact that the ark from which liquors are dispensed is in the river does not seem to be an impassable barrier. The floating salon is owned in Alexandria, is stocked in Alexandria and the owners cater to Alexandrians and late in the evening bring the ark back to Alexandria.

Last Sunday afternoon while several young ladies, of this city were seated near the end of Jones's Point enjoying what little breeze was stirring several drunken negroes were landed from this ark near where the young women were seated The language of the negroes was disgusting, and the young women were forced to move away in order to escape their disgraceful actions.

A stroll to Jones's Point in the cool of the evening has almost since the city was chartered been enjoyed by generation after generation. Shoula no action be taken towards making the place respectable, it will eventually take its place with other well-known localities which have long disgraced Alexandria.

STRANGER ON RAMPAGE.

Washingtonian Attempts to Terrorize King Street Lunch Room.

E. L Ross was arrested last night by Special Officer Sisson for creating a disturbance in the Alexandria Quick Lunch Room on the south side of King street, between Fairfax and Royal. The accused was brought before the Police Court this morning when, according to the evidence of attaches of the place, he used epithets to the attendants, threw salt receptacles at those who incurred his displeasure and later invited one of the men in the lunch room to meet him on the pavement and engage in a fight.

Ross, upon being questioned by the court, said he came to Alexandria from the Soldiers' Home. He was assessed $20. Not having that amount in his exchequer, he asked time before being sent to jail to communicate with the Soldiers' Home in order to raise the fine.

Early one Sunday morning during the summer, it will be remembered, three young Washingtonians came to Alexandria in a canoe and after kicking in the door of a north Lee street resort repaired to the Quick Lunch Room where they engaged in a fight with one of the attaches. These undesirable visitors were taken in custody and they added $60 to the city's treasury, having been fined $20 each. The police department intend to make such crusades to this city costly.

PASSAGE OF THE TARIFF REVISION BILL.

The Democratic Tariff Revision bill passed the Senate at 5:43 o'clock yesterday afternoon by 44 to 37 amid a burst of applause that swept down from crowded galleries and found its echo on the crowded floor of the Senate. Its passage was attended with applause in the final moments of the voting when Senator La Follette, Republican, cast his vote with the Democrats and was joined a few moments later by Senator Poindexter, Progressive

The Democrats had counted throughout the long tariff fight upon losing the votes of Senator Ransdell and Thornton, of Louisiana, Democrats who opposed the bill yesterday because it would put sugar on the free list. Until the names of Senators La Follette and Poindexter were actually called, however, no one knew definitely the stand they would take, and their votes were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

The Democratic party by this action has carried out one of the most vital planks of its platform.

President Wilson issued the following statement concerning the passage of the Tariff bill by the Senate:

"A fight for the people and for free business which has lasted a long generation through has at last been won, handsomely and completely.

"A leadership and a steadfastness in counsel has been shown in both houses of which the Democratic party has reason to be very proud. There has been no weakness or confusion or drawing back, but a statesmanlike directness and command of circumstances.

"I am happy to have been connected with the government of the nation at a time when such things could happen, and to have worked in association with men who could do them.

"There is every reason to believe that currency reform will be carried through with equal energy, directness, and loyalty to the general interest. When that is done this first session of the Sixty-third Congress will have passed into history with an unrivaled distinction.

"I want to express my special admiration for the devoted, intelligent and untiring work of Mr. Underwood and Mr. Simmons and the committees associated with them."

The President has told the story in brief but energetic language. Comment is therefore unnecessary.

FISH OF THE CHESAPEAKE.

Unless the authorities of Maryland and of Virginia co-operate with the federal government, can provide effective means for the adequate protection of the fish in Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, including the Potomac River, by the rigid inforcement of existing laws and regulations governing the placing of fish nets and traps in those waters and, indeed, by even additional legislation, the fishers' industry of these waters is doomed. This is the opinion of the engineers in charge of public works in the waters of the Chesapeake Bay who, at the instance of Secretary of Commerce Redfield, made special investigations of reported violations of the laws and regulations governing the placing of fish nets in these waters. In their reports these officers agree that "the decrease in the number of fish in Chesapeake Bay is due to the excessive seining and destruction of fish by the fertilizer factories." According to reports, "the only remedy is the enactment of a law by the legislature which will prevent the taking of fish from the waters of Chesapeake Bay and tributaries for other purposes than food, and prohibiting their use as fertilizer."

In a letter to the Secretary of Commerce transmitting the reports of the army engineers on the subject, Acting Secretary Breckinridge, of the War Department, says:

"As you are already aware, these nets were being increased to such an extent that some of them interfered with navigation, and this department therefore in January, 1913, issued regulations limiting their location to such extent as was believed necessary for the protection of navigation. Steps were taken to bring those regulations to the attention of the public in order that the fishermen might have a reasonable time to adjust themselves to the new conditions. It is the intention of this department to enforce those regulations. That must formally be done through the courts upon complaint against specific nets. The district officer of the Baltimore district has been authorized, under certain restrictions, to proceed summarily against certain classes of offending nets in his district, when owners cannot be reached with sufficient promptness through the courts. If necessary, similar action will be authorized in the Washington and Norfolk districts."

Whereas, on the 11th day of July, 1913, upon the application of complainant stating specifically the last known place of abode of the defendant, and it appearing to the Court that process had been issued and returned by the Sergeant of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, showing defendant not being found within the jurisdiction of this court, an order of publication was granted in accordance with the statute in such cases made and provided, and a copy of said order directed to be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria News, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, Va.; and

Whereas, before the completion of said publication as required by statute the said Alexandria News suspended publication; It is therefore upon the application of the complainant this 25th day of July, 1913, adjudged, ordered and decreed that the Court doth grant the following order of publication, to wit:

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree divorcing from the bonds of matrimony the complainant, Ella Carter Ahl, from the defendant, William Frank Ahl, on the ground of wilful abandonment and desertion for more than three years last past prior to institution of this suit, and for general relief; and an affidavit having been filed that William Frank Ahl is a non resident of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that he do appear here within fifteen days after due publication of said order of publication and do what is necessary to protect his interests in this suit.

It is further adjudged, ordered and decreed that a copy of said order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, Va., and that a copy be posted at the front door of the Court House of the Corporation Court of said City on or before the next succeeding rule day after this order is entered; and that a copy of said order of publication shall be sent by registered mail by the clerk of this court addressed to said non resident defendant at the Home of the Aged and Infirm of the District of Columbia, at Sheppard's Landing District of Columbia.

INSURANCE.

SAVED BY STEEL CARS.

Pennsylvania Flier Ditched While Running at High Speed.

Madison, Ohio, Sept. 10.—An all-steel train probably saved a score of lives today when the Pennsylvania flier that left New York at 6:30 Monday night and due in St. Louis at 6:30 yesterday evening was ditched by a raised rail near Wylee's Station, four miles west of here yesterday, and thirty-five persons were injured. Three, it is believed, were fatally hurt, and eighteen are in a hospital at Richmond, Ind.

Running at a terrific speed to make up lost time, the fast train struck the defective rail on the Columbus and Indianapolis division of the Pennsylvania railroad, about 50 feet from the approach to a small steel bridge located at the edge of Wylee's Station. The train ran along cross-rails until the engine hit one side of the bridge, tore it from its foundation, and fell with it, half a dozen feet to the creek bed. Six steel coaches were flung to the other side of the track and turned over in a corn field, the first car on the edge of the little stream. Two rear coaches, an observation diner and a Pullman, remained upright on the track bed.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10.—Representatives of eleven railroads have sent a long telegram to the commerce committees of the Senate and House of Representatives and Interstate Commerce Commission, urging the members to make a full investigation of the causes of railroad accidents before undertaking any legislation to prevent wrecks.

The telegram asserted that while all railroads were replacing their wooden cars with steel cars as fast as possible, a law demanding that the wooden cars be done away with at once would cost the roads $633,000,000.

"Figures show that block signals are no specific for collisions, and steel cars do not prevent accidents, merely mitigate their effects," the message says.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64 page book, "Home Treatment for Women," in plain wrapper. H.C. 13

Referring to the approaching completion of the Panama Canal, the London Daily Graphic says editorially: "The domination of the world is not a mere question of geography alone. One thing is certain, however. From the time the canal is finished the naval power of the United States will ipso facto be doubled, and its external influence on both the Atlantic and the Pacific seaboards enormously increased."

The Japanese counsel at Nanking reports to the Japanese legation at Peking another anti-Japanese incident at Nanking. As the consul's messenger, carrying a small flag designating his nationality, was traveling through the city Monday he was assaulted. The soldiers, according to the report, took from him the Japanese flag, and, after tearing it up, trampled the pieces under his feet.

Dr. George M. Philips, principal of the West Chester, Pa., State Normal School since 1881, and one of the leading educators of the State, has been asked to resign his position by trustees of the institution, as a sequel to the disappearance in July of Harry S. An explosion of gasoline in a garage in Newburyport, Mass., yesterday started a fire which spread rapidly to a number of business blocks and nearly a dozen residences. Twenty-five buildings, including the opera house and the Congregational church, were destroyed before the flames were under control. The body of a chauffeur was found in the ruins of the garage and Edwin M. Ingalls, the proprietor of the place was fatally burned, dying later at a hospital. "Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Iowa. We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlani's Cough Remedy and cured his cold completely."

Honest Advice to Consumptives

Somehow there exists a vast amount of scepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert.

If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alterative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many recoveries, one of which follows:—

1619 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal. However, I remained, and in February of 1902, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I learned of and started taking Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure.

"I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alterative, I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

(Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTZ.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists
